

Angeliki Kosmopoulou

Philanthropy executive. Storyteller. Communications consultant with a background in classics.

Following an early career in archaeology and cultural management, Angeliki established a boutique communications agency focusing on content and consulting, including multinational companies. She served as a special advisor to the Speaker of the Hellenic Parliament and to the Minister of Culture.

She is experienced in writing, editing and consulting, teaching storytelling, copywriting and business writing to marketing and advertising professionals and young entrepreneurs.

Angeliki Kosmopoulou is the Executive Director of the A.C. Laskaridis Charitable Foundation since 2015.